

Licence Decision : MIT Licence

We have decided to use an MIT licence because it is open source, and due to its simplicity legally and its flexibility. The licence itself allows people to modify and distribute our software as long as we are credited.

This framework is ideal for our project as our AI failure museum is academic and built for educational purposes. Therefore we want to encourage collaboration by allowing people to edit and build off our software. The licence is easy to understand, making it more accessible. Finally, the licence is widely used therefore making it safe and reliable.
